DETAILED ACTIONI. Election/Restriction:

1. Claims 1-73 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct inventions comprising distinct species and process of preparing the same; for example, anyone of species in claims 34, 35, 48, 53, 55, 62, 69 or 73 and their respective process of preparing. These inventions are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions the patentably distinct species in claims 34, 35, 48, 55, 62, 69 and 73 are not claimed as capable of use together, they have different functions in that one species may be used to prepare a patentably distinct species, e.g. one of the distinct fourth compound species in claim 1 is made from an equally distinct third compound species. Each process in making those compounds employ different reactants, reaction conditions and reactive agents. Additionally, searching each separate end product along with its process of preparing (which separates one process from another in the art), would impose a serious burden on the office if left unrestricted as separate searching strategies and databases are involved for each compound and its corresponding process. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Thus, Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species in any one of the claims identified above and a corresponding process of preparing said species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Art Unit: 1626

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Upon the election of a single disclosed species (e.g. claim number and species structure as well as a process for preparing that species, claim number(s) and pathway employed), a generic concept, inclusive of the elected species and its corresponding process of preparing, will be identified by the Examiner for examination. Moreover, whatever specific species is ultimately elected, applicants are required to list all claims readable thereon, especially the claim numbers relating to the process of preparing said species.
